SCIENCE POPULARIZATION AND ROMANIAN ANARCHISM IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY

Pagini Libere is an anarchist editorial collective.

We are a decentralized, non-hierarchical, autonomous group. Our goal is to offer works and publications (including, but not limited to books, brochures, and fanzines) in the hope that they will inspire and disseminate alternative views and practices to those imposed by our current authoritarian capitalist system.

The libertarian-socialist tradition has always witnessed the unrestrained circulation of pamphlets, clandestine prints, and hastily edited materials. In the vein of this tradition, our materials can be used, adapted, or modified by whosoever desires, as long as they are not distributed commercially. We ask, whenever possible and in an unobtrusive manner, that those who use all or parts of our materials specify their origin.
